CITY FUSION TO BE AHEAD AT MEETING

Civic and Commercial Bodies to Gather With Municipal Officials At the City Hall to Discuss Mooted Problem

Dangers of Haste and Waste of Public Money in Great Amounts Will Be Ventilated

The meeting to consider the consolidation of the Eastbay cities will be held at the city hall tonight at 8 o'clock. As many commercial and civic organizations will be represented as names of these organizations could be obtained by the committee.

J. Travers of the Shredded Wheat Company and a director of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, has been appointed by Mayor John L. Cole, also of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, to the committee. Cole yesterday declined the appointment owing to his membership on another committee from the Chamber of Commerce, which will represent that body at tonight's meeting.

PEACETIME SITUATION CONFRONTING MEETING

At the meeting tonight rather a peculiar situation is being presented by practically all Eastbay cities, including Oakland, Alameda, Emeryville, Piedmont, San Leandro, Hayward and Livermore have expressed themselves against the calling of an immediate freeholders' election and have appointed two representatives each on a special committee suggested by Mayor Davies of Oakland. A strong and representative committee has been selected. This committee will examine the various angles of the consolidation scheme, the approximate cost of a freeholders' election should the machinery for consolidation be immediately set in motion, necessitating the expenditure of $100,000 of the people's money as the probable cost of the first election and the other elections that would automatically follow. This estimate, however, is said by experts to be low. After a careful examination of the project the claim is made that the probable cost will be nearer $150,000.

OUTSIDE CITIES ARE NECESSARY TO PLAN

It is generally recognized by all concerned that no consolidation plan can be a success without the cooperation of the outside cities. The official heads of these municipalities have expressed themselves against the calling of an immediate freeholders' election. Notwithstanding this situation a small coterie of individuals in this city is endeavoring to force an immediate freeholders' election, thus courting certain defeat for the whole project of consolidation. Those individuals have paid solicitors to canvass the county for the past two weeks to secure sufficient names to force the supervisors to call a special freeholders' election. These solicitors have been paid not less than 7 cents a vote and are now putting the penalties into effect which the signing of the petition meant remuneration to the solicitor. At tonight's meeting the majority committee will no doubt make a preliminary report, which will embody certain recommendations for the general committee to the supervisors. From all indications the meeting this evening will be of no avail.

ALAMEDA C. OF C. NAMES TWO REPRESENTATIVES

ALAMEDA, Aug. 5.—J. C. Stannard and J. H. Wilkins were named by the Alameda chamber of commerce last night to represent the organization at the new city and county government meeting in Oakland tonight. The organization already has a consolidated county committee which is a part of the consolidation movement. The two committeemen named last night were appointed in conformity with the plans for tonight's meeting, which includes the naming of two representatives from each city organization in the county. In addition to the two special delegates last night the directors of the chamber of commerce urged Alamedans to attend the meeting for the matter is an important one, affecting the entire county.

Mills College Gets $350,000 Of N. Y. Board

Mills College today was notified that it is to receive $350,000 from the educational endowment pool controlled by the General Education Board of New York City as a part of the first million dollars, which is being raised for the institution here.

As $200,000 has already been secured by the alumni since February, 1920, this leaves but $150,000 to be raised on the first million dollars. The college is making a drive to secure a total of $2,000,000.

Some years ago the Rockefeller, Carnegie and other foundations pooled their educational endowments and organized the General Education Board composed of foremost educators to investigate various colleges and allot funds to the most deserving. Wallace Buttenick is chairman of the board.

Dr. Aurelia Reinhardt, president of Mills College, today expressed pleasure over the recognition of the Oakland institution by the national board, and said that it would prove a great encouragement to friends of the college who are engaged in raising the big fund.

"The fact that the General Education Board selected Mills College as worthy of a gift of this size, shows that our foremost educators consider the work we are doing here is of a high character," said Dr. Reinhardt.

False Rating Is Accusation

500 Employees Are Listed At Mare Island For Penalties

A secret list in which approximately 500 employees of the Mare Island navy yard are given penalties ranging from suspension for one day to discharge from service, was posted today in the office of the commandant. At the same time notice was served on the individuals named.

The compilation of the list is the result of two investigations that have been conducted since the first of the year at Mare Island in an effort to determine if employees have defrauded the government of several hundred thousand dollars as the result of receiving pay for ratings which their work or their previous experience did not entitle them to hold.

The board which has just completed the findings consisted of William D. Bergman, chief clerk of the navy department at Washington, and Louis H. Fisher, representing the head office of the navy's civil service department. They had been sent to the yard as the personal representatives of the navy department.

Daniels with power to affix penalties. Their appointment was made following the investigations of an earlier investigation. This board was composed of members of the labor board of the yard and Charles L. Snyder, in charge of the civil service bureau at San Francisco.

Mare Island officers opposed the viewpoint of Snyder's board. Except in the case of some transients, it was argued, it was not proper to put the penalties into effect which were delayed until they are given the personal O. K. of Secretary of the Navy Daniels. It is also believed that the department officials at Washington are not entitled to entitle them.

The other is that men, with the knowledge of officers at Mare Island, were receiving pay for higher ratings, when as a matter of fact they were actually doing the work that falls under a lower rating and draws lower pay. Many persons who were working as clerks, it was alleged, were drawing the higher pay of skilled mechanics.

Officers say method of Navy yard officers defend this on the grounds that the procedure was necessary to push the yard work properly under the tension of war demands. Men with the knowledge of skilled mechanics were needed, they say, to perform much of the clerical work that affected those departments. They also declare that this was done with the knowledge of the department officials at Washington and that otherwise men could not have been obtained.

The investigations have been looked upon with disfavor by Mare Island officers. They declare that they have cost the government at least $100,000 through decreased efficiency resulting from the impairment of the workers' morale. Some have resigned and others have lost their enthusiasm, it is declared. Approximately 50 good mechanics have quit, it is said.

The penalties affect about 270 men in the machine department, nearly an equal number in the hull department and a small number in the public works department.

The case of wine was hurled from the car and landed on the ground. Wine was running in small rivulets from the center of the street when the police arrived at the scene of the accident.

The car was badly damaged and had been driven away. The girl was taken to a nearby hospital, where she is being cared for.

Mike Green and J. Parker Are Drowned When Doris Swamped by Storm

Two Oakland men who sailed on April 12 with the schooner Louise of the Bering Sea fishing fleet met death in a heavy storm a month ago. Three others, whose names are not given, came near to perishing. The dead are Mike Green of East Oakland and J. Parker.

News of this tragedy is contained in a letter received today from Captain M. Shea of the schooner Louise. This was the first word to be received from the fleet since it reached northern waters.

Captain Shea writes that the storm came up unexpectedly while the men were out in their dories. The storm swamped some of the dories as they were heading back for the schooner, but the majority of the men managed to stay afloat until assistance arrived.

One of the rescued men was picked up by the schooner Galilee, while another schooner saved two others. They have recovered and resumed work. The bodies of Green and Parker were not recovered.

Green was known in Oakland shipping circles and had made many trips to the northern sea. Parker had only recently come to Oakland.

He had planned to bring his family to this coast when the fleet returned from the north.

After the girl was placed in the car, one of the men sat by her and held her up erect in order to attract as little attention as possible while the car was moving off with one of the dories. The other man was in the car, and the girl was unconscious at the time.

PARIS, Aug. 5.—(By Associated Press.)—It is understood in Mayence (headquarters of the French army of occupation in Germany) that orders have been issued to begin the transportation of allied troops across Bavaria and Bohemia to Poland, said a Basle dispatch to L'Information today. The dispatch said the Bavarian authorities have announced that the Bavarian population will use every means to prevent the transportation of troops through that country.

It was stated at the foreign office at noon that nothing was known of any military order to begin sending French troops to Poland.

BERLIN, Aug. 5.—(Night)—French troops are being massed along the Rhine, ready to proceed through Bavaria to the assistance of Poland, according to reports Bavarian cities received here tonight. The French are censoring messages from the occupied territory along the Rhine, but in spite of this, reports from that district indicate some troops are on the move.

1.—Russia to appropriate all of Poland's arms, ammunition, food, stults and railway rolling stocks without interference from Germany.

2.—After Poland was crushed, the Russians were to "evacuate" Polish soil in favor of Germany.

Caldwell Named New Principal Of Deaf School

Professor William A. Caldwell was named principal for the California School for the Deaf and Blind at a meeting of the board of directors held last night and Frank H. B. O'Connell was selected as vice-principal.

Caldwell, who has been a teacher in the school for 30 years, was chosen after William Nat Friend, the president, and Professor T. M. Pilling, vice-president of the board, had searched the east for some months in search of a man to fill the position.

Caldwell succeeds Professor Lawrence E. Miller, who died March 30 in Colorado Springs.

There was a great mass meeting of 50,000 German communists at the ex-king's palace on Wednesday. Violent protests were made against the "disfranchising of the revolutionary proletariat by the capitalist state" and the breaking up of the working class by the "bourgeoisie". A powerful propaganda campaign is being carried on for a Russo-German alliance.

WARSAW, Aug. 5.—(By Associated Press.)—Poland's council of defense has sent a wireless dispatch to Moscow informing the Soviet government that Poland's army is ready to accept a peace delegation to Minsk. Two conditions were laid down by the council. The first was that the Polish delegates be permitted to communicate freely with the Warsaw government and that the Soviet government agree to accept the terms of the original British proposals for an armistice with Poland.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—(By United Press.)—A dispatch from Warsaw to the Evening News, dated Wednesday, said the Polish delegates to the conference were to have met the Bolsheviks at Minsk for further negotiations had been held up by the Russian commander-in-chief, General Litovsk, and that therefore it was impossible for them to reach Minsk on scheduled time.

PARIS, Aug. 5.—(By Associated Press.)—The Bolshevik army was closing their pincers around Warsaw today, Premier Lloyd George informed the House of Commons he had warned Russia that she should grant an immediate armistice, with fair terms, to the Poles.

Lloyd George said he delivered this warning yesterday to M. Krassin and M. Kamennoff, the Russian representatives in London, who were to communicate it to Moscow. He advised them that the continued Bolshevik advance in Poland made the allies suspect the sincerity of the Soviet government in its professed desire for peace and resumption of trade relations.

NEW PARTY SPLIT; I. W. W. CONTROLS

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 5.—Two leaders in Utah activities of the Farmer-Labor party today made public a joint letter of resignation to George Crosby, state chairman of the party, charging industrial workers of the world were in control of the party. They were H. A. McCollum, state vice-chairman, and Charles A. Weaver, assistant secretary of the State organization.

The two former officers of the party recited a number of facts which, they said, tended to prove I. W. W. influence had been active in the party, accused some members of that organization of seeking to subvert the new party to their own ends and made a general denunciation of radicalism.

The letter called attention to pro-ouncements by Parley P. Christensen, the party presidential nominee, against the I. W. W. and said he had failed to live up to those statements. Reciting the reasons which led him to add in formation of the new party as saying "he would resent the exercising of the I. W. W. vote in the new party's behalf." It continued:

"A large number of the most influential members of some labor unions today designate as their choice the Republican candidate."

"When members of labor unions began to vote in unison with capitalist interests some of the better educated men among them must be cognizant that there is no reward in Socialism."

"The Farmer-Labor party delegates had barely returned home before they began to form plans to control the new party and... began to pursue their own radical ends. Christensen... has sacrificed his integrity to labor unions and I. W. W."

The letter explains that the signers are not attacking all unions, but only those inclined to radicalism. It goes on to say that "I. W. W. in-

SINCLAIR SUES TO BE CANDIDATE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5.—An early decision by the State Supreme Court in the case of B. W. Sinclair of San Diego, who has asked for a writ of mandamus directing the secretary of state to place his name on the ballot as a candidate for Congress, was expected today.

Sinclair's case was argued late yesterday. Attorney Walter Linnforth of San Francisco and State Senator Sample of San Diego appeared for Sinclair. The secretary of state was represented by the attorney general's office.

Interests are "operating under the misnomer of the 'Farmer-Labor party,'" and adds: "No law abiding citizen would dare belong to it (the Farmer-Labor party)."

HARDING GETS BACK OF FIGHT FOR SUFFRAGE

By J. BART CAMPBELL,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

MARION, O., Aug. 5.—Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican nominee for President, today threw the full weight of his influence toward securing the ratification of the national woman suffrage amendment by the thirty-sixth state necessary to enable women to vote in every state at the November election.

In carrying out his promise to Mrs. Abby Scott Baker, political chairman of the National Woman's party, that he would take "definite steps" to assist women to secure a nation-wide ballot, the Senator wired John C. Houk, state senator and Republican state chairman of Tennessee, that Republicans of that state "are in a position to serve both party and country by effecting ratification" of the suffrage amendment by its Legislature. One-fourth of the Tennessee Legislature is Republican.

SITUATION DARK.
The situation at Nashville, Mrs. Baker told the Senator, is "dark and desperate," but she expressed the opinion if the Republican members of the Legislature now in session there would swing solidly behind the suffrage amendment the chances of Tennessee being the thirty-sixth state to ratify it would be "greatly improved."

The Senator's telegram to Senator Houk follows:
"With the approach of a decision by the general assembly of Tennessee on the matter of ratifying the suffrage amendment to the federal constitution, I would like to be advised as to poll of Republican members. I cling to the belief that Tennessee Republicans are in a position to serve both party and country by affecting ratification. Will welcome advice as to whether I can aid in securing this act of justice to the women citizenship of the nation."
(Signed)

"WARREN G. HARDING."
In response to a message from Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National American Suffrage Association, and Mrs. George Fort Milton, president of the Tennessee League of Women Voters, appealing to him to assist in securing ratification of the suffrage amendment by the Tennessee Legislature, Senator Harding also sent the following reassuring message to them at Chattanooga:

"Your telegram received. No discouragement is voiced from here. On the contrary, we are continuing to encourage the Republicans in the Tennessee assembly to join cordially in the effort to consummate ratification."

BEER PLANK FOR STATE PLATFORM

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 5.—A proposed plank calling attention to the 2.5 per cent beer law adopted by the 1920 Legislature was included in the completed platform draft submitted to the Democratic unofficial state convention at the closing session.

In the platform committee's deliberations advocates of endorsing the bill and recommending similar national legislation were opposed by delegates who believed the beer plank was too much at variance with the prohibition stand of the national platform. The committee finally adopted the plank, 21 to 9. A fight on the convention floor was threatened.

Modification of the Volstead prohibition enforcement act, recognition of the Irish republic, affirmation of faith in the national Democratic platform and endorsement of the nominations of Cox and Roosevelt, enthusiastic commendation of Governor Smith's administration of state affairs, reorganization of the state government by consolidation of existing departments, creation of an executive budget system, a four-year term for governor, belief of the people in direct primaries, home rule for cities and state development of hydroelectric power were the principal planks of the platform submitted by the committee on resolutions.

The plank on the Volstead act follows:
"We favor an amendment to the so-called Volstead act that will make operative the act passed by the state legislature and signed by Governor Smith defining non-intoxicating beverages and providing for the regulation of their sale."

"We favor an amendment to the national constitution whereby all amendments to the constitution of the United States hereafter proposed shall be ratified by a referendum of the whole people and not by the legislatures of the several states."

After a minority report eliminating the beer plank had been defeated the platform was adopted.

FARMERS HUNT ATTACKER.

Careless Shampooing Spoils the Hair

Scalp should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most shampoos and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy; it's very cheap and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—Advertisement.

W. H. BRANDES, of Des Moines, Iowa, who declares he gained twenty pounds in thirty days after taking Tanlac and now feels like a different man.

"Thirty days ago, a little more, only, weighed 125 pounds, but now I balance the scales at 145 pounds and Tanlac did it," declared W. H. Brandes, a well-known and highly respected citizen of Des Moines, Iowa. Mr. Brandes has been looking after the plumbing work of the Des Moines Public Schools for the past nineteen years.

"And many of the teachers and scholars can tell you how different I look since I began taking Tanlac," he said. "I suffered from indigestion of the worst kind for the past year or more and was often so weak and dizzy I couldn't stand up, let alone walk. Nothing helped me. Finally a friend persuaded me to try Tanlac and I have never seen or heard of anything to equal it. It relieved me entirely of indigestion and put me right back on my feet. I have not gained twenty pounds in weight, but I feel like a new man in every way. I just think Tanlac is the finest thing ever sold in a drug store."

Tanlac is sold in San Francisco and Oakland by the Owl Drug Company stores.—Advertisement.

How to Rid the Arms of Objectionable Hairs

(Aids to Beauty)

A simplified method is here given for the quick removal of hair of the arms. The method is simple and requires no special treatment. Mix a stiff paste with some powdered talcum and water, apply to hairy surface and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and every hair has vanished. This simple treatment cannot cause injury, but care should be exercised to get real talcum.—Advertisement.

WHEART and HIS HUSBAND

BY ADELE GARRISON

WHAT ELLIAN BURKE WOOD COMPELLED MADGE TO DO.

The men, of course, sprang to their feet, but Alfred Burke did not go to meet his mother. Instead he stood rather grimly watching until she, with a single appearing glance at him, went straight to Lella Fairfax and put her arms around the girl's slender figure. "Look here, she said, with the charming loveliness which always endears little Mrs. Burke's friends to her, 'please believe that I love you and am very pleased at Alfred's choice. And some day—you'll know in your own heart just why I was so hateful just now, and that you had nothing to do with it.'"

Lella's answer was smothered in the next breath. "Alfred," she said, "I have never known more beautiful days than those of the summer months following Junior's birthday fete, which ended so auspiciously for the happiness of Alfred Durkee and Lella Fairfax."

Only the closing of school disturbed the placid monotony of the days, and that held no unexpected element, was simply a matter of tedious routine which Alice Holcombe and I managed to dispose of without friction or outspoken criticism from the school board.

With Lillian and her small daughter domiciled at Mrs. Durkee's on the corner, I resolutely put from my mind all fear of any unpleasantness for me which might ensue from the campaign against Kenneth Stockbridge by his dead wife's relatives, a campaign of which I strongly suspected the emerald appearing man who had called upon me to be a part. Lillian was always like a solid rock behind you pretty soon with childishly that nothing could happen while she was my next door neighbor.

Only one thing clouded the utter indolent contentment in which I spent the first few weeks of my vacation, and that was my knowledge of the intense suffering which Alice Holcombe was undergoing because of the continual incarceration in the county jail of Kenneth Stockbridge, charged with having murdered his wife. But as the days wore on, I found myself undergoing a real protest at my own selfishness, adopting the view of the matter which Lillian and Dicky kept forcing on me. "Look here, lady," Lillian said one day shortly after school closed when I was expressing my sympathy for Alice, "if you don't quit trying to carry the weight of the world on your shoulders we're going to walk slowly behind you pretty soon with nice little wreaths in our hands."

A LAZY PROGRAM.
"Why? Why?" I stammered. "I'm perfectly all right."
"Yes you are," she scoffed. "You're about as near a nervous breakdown as anybody I ever saw. I wouldn't tell you this only somebody's got to make you take care of yourself, and I fancy I'm the goate. Remember, child, you've been under a pretty stiff strain for a long time since before Dicky joined the aviation corps."

Bayview hasn't helped things along any.

"Well, at least I'm not going back there next year," I protested feebly.
"For which small exhibition of your common sense Allah be praised," retorted Lillian. "But that doesn't alter the fact that you're pretty nearly at the end of your tether. You're thin, hollow-eyed and pale, the mere ghost of yourself. Oh! we've all been taking you over Dicky, his mother, your real service, your humble servant, and we've decided that you need absolute rest, lying around in the sunshine, reading in a hammock, evening motor cars, and that sort of thing, until you're built up again."

"Sounds like a nice, lazy, attractive program," I said appreciatively.
DICKY'S SUGGESTION.
"It is," Lillian rejoined, "but you've got to put Alice Holcombe and her troubles out of your mind first. Worring about it won't do her or Mr. Stockbridge one bit of good, and you'll only get yourself in such a state that if there came a chance to do them any real service you would not be in either the mental or the physical condition to render it."

"I suppose you are right," I returned meekly, "and I will do my best."
"You'll do better than that if I have any say in the matter," Lillian retorted. "I found it very pleasant to lie back and go petted and coddled for a while. Dicky was my devoted cavalier, and I knew from his manner that he was really worried about me. I was more for him mentally, and it was several weeks before I began to get back my ambition. But at last I knew tired of inaction, no matter how innocently passive, I expressed by restlessness to Dicky one afternoon when he had come home early and was reading to me as I lay in the hammock."

"Dicky," I said suddenly, putting out a hand and pulling the book away from his gaze, "please stop reading a minute."
"Anything to please," Dicky rejoined promptly, and with a shrewd glance at me, "What's on your mind, old dear?"
"Don't you think I've been on the shelf long enough?" I asked.
"Oh—ho!" he rejoined. "Beginning to sit up and take notice, aren't you? Well, now, let's see what the doctor would better prescribe. I'm going to take you away after a little, but I can't go just yet. I have it! 'How would you like to learn to run the car with me as a teacher?'"

I did not know whether I was pleased or sorry at Dicky's suggestion that he teach me to run the car as a panacea for my nervousness. I was naturally a good driver, was one of my secret ambitions, but Dicky as a teacher, with his erratic temperament, promised complications, to put it mildly.
But, of course, there was only one reply to make to my husband. I made it so promptly that I am sure he did not suspect the mental indecision which had preceded it.
"Oh, I'd love to learn," I exclaimed. "When can we start?"
"This minute," he returned, a little to my discomfort, for I had not expected so prompt a response from my naturally indolent husband.

"But I'm not dressed," I protested, looking down at the flimsy negligee which I was wearing.
"You can be by the time I get the car around," Dicky informed me coolly, getting up from his chair and depositing the book he had been reading upon the ground in his usual careless fashion. "Better wear something you don't care about. I'm likely to put you through all sorts of paces."

RUSSIAN KIDDIES WAVE FAREWELLS TO GOLDEN GATE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5.—The "Kiddies' Ship," the Yomei Maru, sailed out of the Golden Gate this morning on its voyage to New York via the Panama canal. The American Red Cross vessel, which brought into this port a cargo of 750 young Russian refugees, took away with it but 778 boys and girls who are going home to Petrograd to meet again their families after four years' separation. Alexander Simionoff and his twin brother, Levi, have remained behind. Relatives met them upon their arrival in this city and made claim to the lads.

The Red Cross released them. The boys will be sent to New York by rail, where they will be placed under the guardianship of an uncle. Vera Mikhailova, 14 years old, furnished thrills last night when she fell overboard from the ship during a dance which was given for the youngsters. Her head struck a cable and she sank beneath the water. A life-preserver, thrown from the ship as she arose to the surface, hit her head. She became unconscious. Attracted by the excitement, Patrolman Charles Mangels plunged into the water and rescued the girl. The accident was the only one to mar the three-day visit of the youngsters.

Golden Gate park was the scene of the gala occasion yesterday when the young visitors were given a picnic luncheon and free use of the concessions. Late yesterday afternoon they were placed aboard the Yomei Maru.

California fruits, flowers and candies with personal gifts for each child were placed aboard the ship by the Red Cross representatives and personal friends of the children.

The "Kiddies' Ship" is due to arrive in New York about September 1, where the party will remain ten days before sailing for Copenhagen.

MAGIC BRACELET WILL OF WINQUIST DENIED PROBATE

Ending a contest over the estate of N. O. Winquist, who before his death on July 31, 1919, is alleged to have written many wills at the dictation of a magic bracelet in his possession, Judge E. C. Robinson in the probate court today denied probate to a will alleged to have been written by the deceased in a book under date of July 21, 1919, four days before his death.

The will was presented by Mrs. Sophie Anderson, a friend of Winquist, and she with Anna Winquist, and another Winquist of Sweden, were made the legatees. J. A. Hill, public administrator, sought to have this will admitted to probate, but a contest was filed on behalf of George Linde, a grandnephew of Judge Linde, S. Church, who was given most of the estate in a will dated April 18, 1918. The petition for probate of this will is up for consideration next Monday.

The purported will in the book was denied probate because, it was written by Winquist, he failed to sign his name correctly both in the signature and in the body of the will. The contestants also alleged that Mrs. Sophie Anderson had used undue influence upon the deceased to make this will when he was not in full possession of his faculties. The will of April 18, 1918, is a typewritten document. It makes a bequest of $1400 to Gladys C. M. Allen and gives the residue of the estate to George Linde. Porter, appointing Judge Church executor. Winquist, who was 67 years old when he died a bachelor, is said to have made his money in Alaska, but in later years he had become deeply religious and placed great faith in a bracelet he owned which he believed possessed the power to guide aright anyone who believed in it.

Former State Official Dies Under Knife

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5.—Funeral services for Edward D. Roberts, former state treasurer and banker of San Bernardino and Los Angeles, who died at San Bernardino last night following a surgical operation a few days ago, will be held next Monday in San Bernardino. It was announced here today by friends in charge of arrangements. Interment will be in Inglewood cemetery. Roberts was well known from prominent bankers and business men of southern California.

Railroads Ready to Sell $40,000,000 Securities

By RALPHEE COUCH,
United Press Staff Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Railroads will offer approximately $40,000,000 worth of securities to the public in the next three or four months, it was learned here today at the Bureau of Railroad Economics, unless present prices are upset. Interest rates will be at least 7 per cent. Quick sales of the securities will result in more being put on the market, it was said.

The proceeds will be applied on purchase of new equipment of which more than $10,000,000 worth will be needed in the next twelve months according to present plans. Part of the money for equipment will come from the revolving fund administered by the Interstate Commerce Commission under the transportation act.

CONFERENCE ON SALES
Railroad officials now are conferring with investment brokers to arrange for sale of securities. Conferences were being held several days ago in anticipation of the rate increase allowed railroads by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

A hitch developed, however, which has not yet been overcome. The investment bankers made clear to the railroad officials the securities might have to pay more than 7 per cent if their prompt sale was to be assured. The Interstate Commerce Commission, however, let the rail officials know the government would view the

Mexico Names Envoy to St. James Court

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The state department was advised today that Miguel Covarrubias has been appointed minister to Great Britain by the De la Huerta government in Mexico. Officials stated that this does not mean that Great Britain has recognized the De la Huerta government.

PREMIER HUGHES SCORES MANNIX

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The government has ruled that Archbishop Mannix of Melbourne may not land in Ireland and will take steps to render that decision effective. Premier Lloyd George announced in Commons this afternoon. The archbishop sailed from New York last Saturday.

REPAIR IS BIG ITEM
Reports that the roads will spend before Jan. 1, sums ranging from $6,000,000 to $7,000,000 for new equipment, were scouted here by rail officials.

"So much equipment could not be delivered in such a short time," said Director Parmelee, of the Bureau of Railroad Economics. Most plants for the manufacture of equipment now have enough orders to keep them busy for the remainder of 1920.

Repair of equipment will be the big item of expenditure for the remainder of the year. This is the surest way to decrease the car shortage.

3-Hour Quake Is Recorded at Santa Clara U

SANTA CLARA UNIVERSITY, Cal., Aug. 5.—Earth disturbances continuing more than three hours were recorded today on the seismograph here.

Father J. S. Ricard of the Santa Clara University Observatory said the tremors were not in California.

"The tracings on the record here are indistinct and from their uniformity it is apparent the tremors are not of a violent nature," he said.

edged Sinn Fein leader in this country. "When he arrived in Australia seven years ago, Australia was freer from sectarian bitterness than any other country in the world. Spurred by boundless personal ambition and hatred for Great Britain, Archbishop Mannix has fanned the dying embers of religious bigotry into a fierce blaze, gathering around him every fanatic alien and Sinn Fein in the country. He worked incessantly during the war to prevent recruiting and help the enemy defeat the allies, working great harm to Australia."

Indictments Against 41 Strikers Returned

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Indictments against 41 leaders in the Chicago railway strike, which Judge Aleschler refused to receive yesterday because the names of those indicted had become public through a "leak" several hours before the federal grand jury completed its report, were returned today.

Judge Aleschler ordered the indictments placed under seal until investigation of the leak is completed. Reporters of afternoon papers who published the names of those indicted yesterday are to be subpoenaed.

Buying a Pig in a Poke

The buying of advertising space used to be buying "a pig in a poke." The quantity and quality of circulation was shrouded in mystery, and often the bag was tied against investigation.

That day has passed. The advertiser no longer depends upon "mere claims." The Audit Bureau of Circulations has untied the strings to the sack and the circulation of the better class of publication is thrown open for the most searching scrutiny.

When buying advertising space in the OAKLAND TRIBUNE you are not buying "a pig in a poke." Our A. B. C. statements will stand the analysis of the most exacting investigator.

DESTROYERS TO PREVENT CABLE SHIP LANDING

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 5.—Orders to board the cableship Colombia on her arrival here and take her outside of American waters were received here this morning by British Consul A. H. Hubbard, from British Ambassador Godes.

The wireless station at Miami Beach and the wireless aboard the U. S. S. No. 155 at Miami's docks are endeavoring to communicate with the Colombia but have not yet made connections.

The cableship is expected to arrive late this afternoon. Admiral Benson C. Decker has placed the destroyer No. 155 at the convenience of Consul Hubbard and will take him out to the Colombia soon as she nears this point.

The Colombia is approaching this coast with the intent of laying a cable from Miami to the Barbados, which has been ordered postponed here until a permit has been secured from the United States and the destroyers were sent here to prevent the landing of the cable.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The British embassy has given the state department assurances that the British cableship Colombia will not attempt to lay a cable from Miami, Fla., until this government has acted upon a request for permission to lay the cable. Secretary of State Coby announced today.

Secretary Daniels stated that he is awaiting reports on the situation along the Florida coast and that destroyers will be kept on duty there until the incident is closed.

PREMIER RECEIVES IRISH DELEGATES

LONDON, Aug. 4 (By the Associated Press).—Premier Lloyd George received a deputation of Irish Unionists and Nationalists from Dublin and Cork, who urged him to grant dominion home rule for Ireland.

The deputation was headed by Sir Stanley Harrington, commissioner for education in Ireland.

With the premier were Andrew Bonar Law, lord of the private seal, Sir Hammer Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, and other ministers. An official report of the conference will be issued shortly.

RECEIVES SOVIET LEADER. Between these conferences Lloyd George and Bonar Law received Leo Kamenef, president of the Moscow Soviet, Leonid Kravich, and other members of the Russian mission which has come to London in an endeavor to solve the trade situation between Great Britain and Russia.

This was the first official reception of the Russians since their return to London. The discussion was confined to the Polish crisis.

The premier's reception twice of the Cork and Dublin deputation was the cause of interest in the lobby of the House of Commons. The belief was expressed that the views of men of such high standing, many of whom formerly were opposed to home rule, could not have failed of careful consideration by the ministers.

SETS POLICY RUMORS AFOAT. It was said in the lobby of parliament that the delegation had urged the government to drop the new Irish crimes bill and substitute a generous home rule measure.

The objection that the visitors did not represent the Sinn Feiners, the delegation argued that the procedure they advocated would at least have behind it the large, growing opinion in Ireland while the policy of combining "coercion" with the home rule bill before parliament would be unanimously condemned.

Whether anything came of the conference, the view held in the lobby was that the premier's alacrity in receiving the deputation was highly significant.

It is an open secret that the premier favors dominion home rule as a solution of the controversy and has been held back by the conservative elements in the cabinet.

Rewards Are Offered for Chinese Rebels

PEKING, Aug. 5 (By the Associated Press).—A new political program is expected to develop, following the arrival here of Chang Tiao Lin, Tsao Kuo and Wu Pei-fu, who are now conferring with President Hsu Shih-Chang. It is semi-officially reported that these three leaders previously reached an agreement at Tien Tsin, providing for the return of Chin Yun Feng to the premiership, with the understanding that he would reorganize the cabinet along pre-concerted lines.

Despite the most vigilant guard over all exits from the legation quarter at Peking, all persons passing the search of all going out through the city gates, and the offer of rewards running as high as thirty thousand taels for the principal offenders, none of the prescribed officials, belonging to the Anfu group, have been apprehended.

Water Company Says Assessment Too High

BREKELEY, Aug. 5.—Samuel M. Marks, secretary of the Eastbay Water company, today filed an application for a rehearing before the city council as a board of equalization asking for a reduction in the assessment of the company's property of $238,845.

The assessed valuation, fixed by City Assessor Harry J. Squires, is $435,650 on personal property, and $181,900 on improvements, or a total of $617,550. The reduction asked would bring the assessable valuation to $267,000 on personal property, and $129,715 on improvements.

Two Farmers Killed Dueling Over Dollar

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 12.—Ernest White, 29, is dead and Joe Mead, 30, is in jail at Forsyth following a pistol duel between the farmers culminating in a quarrel over $1. Mead is said to have owed White a part of wages for working at the Mead farm.

The duel was fought at Hollister, White, fighting to the last, emptied his revolver of its last cartridge as he fell over dead. Mead fired several shots at Mead after receiving his death wound with the first bullet from Mead's gun.

TELLS WOOER OF WIFE TO MARRY HER OR QUIT

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 5.—Suits for $100,000 for alleged alienation of affection of his wife, filed here by Charles B. Chisholm of Newark, N. J., against William C. Parker of Morristown, N. J., today revealed a new angle on the love triangle.

Chisholm said when he learned of his wife's alleged friendship with Parker, he called the couple into a conference and made a clean cut proposition for settlement of the difficulty.

"I told Parker he would have to take my wife and marry her, or leave her to me or face suit for alienation," an affidavit filed by him said.

Parker replied, according to Chisholm, that he would not take the woman, because he was already married, and had two sons to educate.

JURY SPEAKS TO LOS GATOS BODY

PALO ALTO, Aug. 5.—"The Trend of Democracy" is the subject of a talk to be given this noon at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon by John G. Jury of San Jose.

The regular meeting of the chamber of commerce will be held this evening at the community house. At that time final action will be taken on the question of participation in the water conservation movement in the county. The new Palo Alto folder is process of printing and will be ready for issuance in a few weeks.

The report of the city health officer shows there were eight births and four deaths in July. Five of the babies are boys. In the death list the youngest person to die was aged 49, the oldest 86. One case of typhoid fever was discovered, but its origin was due to outside causes. Two cases of scarlet fever were found. In all there were 11 cases of communicable diseases.

GUNBOATS TO KEEP PEACE ON FISHING BANKS

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 5.—United States patrol boats may be called into duty off this port unless hostilities between Japanese, Austrian and Italian fishermen cease.

Bitter feeling exists with the Japanese on one side and the Austrians and Italians on the other. The Japanese, their rivals charge, will not sell bait when the Austrians and Italians run short, while the latter say that they have always shared bait with the Japanese. As a result the fishermen have had several battles off the coast, in which shots were fired, boats were run down, nets damaged and in one case at least, Japanese were killed. This was the case of the Japanese fishing boat Yamato, which was either run down or dynamited and her crew killed. Further probe of this tragedy was underway today.

Foss' Son, Daughter Are Put On Payroll

Both the son and the daughter of County Treasurer Fred W. Foss are now on the county payroll in their father's office. The former, WILLIAM F. Foss, who has been a deputy in the office since the resignation of J. C. Hedemark some months ago, has been advanced, according to announcement today, to occupy the head deputyship, of which Thomas W. Robinson was for several years incumbent, and Miss Lulu R. Foss has been made a deputy.

Robinson is well known in county political and in fraternal circles. Before becoming chief deputy to Foss he served a long term as a deputy in the assessor's office. He resigned the first of this month to become chief clerk at Denver of the Woodmen of the World, with which fraternity he has held a coast position.

Anglo-Japanese Alliance Is Scored

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 5.—The Anglo-Japanese alliance, recently renewed for one year, was denounced yesterday by speakers before the annual convention of the People's Party of China, in session here. Delegates deplored that Great Britain had "fallen into a snare" and declared the alliance was of no special benefit to England, but provided protection to Japan "while she gains territory in China."

Ma So, chairman of the convention, said that under the treaty, "which professes to guarantee the integrity of China and the open door policy," Japan is using China as a meal. He added that he also considered the treaty a menace to the United States.

Wife of Sheriff of Placer County Dead

Mrs. Sarah Watson, wife of R. N. Watson, sheriff of Placer county and famous guide, died last night at Kings Daughters Home, following an illness of several months. She was 62 years old. Her husband, who was named "Watson Lake," after Mr. and Mrs. Watson. The body will be shipped to Lake Tahoe, where the funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon.

Mrs. Watson is survived by three sons, H. S., S. G. and R. H. Watson, and by two daughters, Mrs. Edna Goff and Mrs. Edith Gehardt.

No Limit On Doctor's Liquor Prescriptions

LEXINGTON, Ky., Aug. 5.—No limit can be placed on the number of liquor prescriptions issued by a physician, United States District Judge Cochran ruled Monday in a decision made public at the federal court office here yesterday. The decision was handed down in the case of Dr. Francisco Simpson of Louisville, Ky., who asked that the court issue an injunction restraining Federal Prohibition Director James H. Combs from refusing to issue him additional prescription blanks.

Japanese Diet Shows Turbulent Scenes

HONOLULU, T. H., Aug. 5.—Ryutaro Nagai, an opposition member of the Japanese diet, was suspended from his body recently for calling Premier Hara the "Lion of the Orient" and using other "violent expressions" in an attack on the Hara ministry, according to the Tokyo correspondent of the Nippon Jiji, a Japanese newspaper here. Under the order of suspension Nagai was barred from the diet for five days.

OIL COMPROMISE MADE WITH NAVY AT $2 PER BARREL

VALLEJO, Aug. 5.—The differences between the navy department and the various oil companies were considered settled today with the announcement that the Standard Oil company had agreed to supply the navy with oil at $2 a barrel. Previously all companies had held out for the market price, which is now from $2.15 a barrel upward, according to the locality and is still rising.

The actual return of oil by the navy department at San Francisco and threats of additional seizures were features of the somewhat bitter negotiations that have been carried on between Rear Admiral Joseph L. Jayne, commandant of the twelfth naval district, and representatives of the Standard Oil, the Union Oil and the Gulf Oil companies.

The Associated Oil company assumed a somewhat more conciliatory attitude by allowing barges to take limited supplies of oil at Port Costa at the navy's price of $1.75 a barrel. This is the price, at which the navy demanded that all companies were called upon to supply oil.

Although, according to the announcement, only the Standard Oil company has agreed to supply oil at the $2 rate, that company's agreement on terms practically means that the other companies will be forced to follow.

Last night the yard barge loaded up on 26,000 barrels of oil at the Associated Oil company's plant at Port Costa.

Nearly all the 15 destroyers now moored at the navy yard are in need of oil. It was announced today. The Standard and Associated companies are expected to furnish it.

French Woman Makes Appeal For Children

Although the war has been over for near two years, Mme. E. Guerin, who is here to supervise the poppy sale Saturday, states that thousands of French children in the devastated areas are yet unhoused, save for some basement or rough shack built of waste.

The sale is to open early Saturday morning and will be carried on by a corps of Oakland girls. They will sell paper poppies, the flower being in remembrance of the American boys who are buried in France where poppies yearly cover their graves.

In urging that Oakland do her share toward providing funds to aid the French orphanage, Mme. Guerin said:

"You bought Liberty Bonds during the war until it hurt. And yet we ask and ask again. Those children lean on America and America alone of all the world is in position to aid them. Let your response to the solicitations of our poppy girls on Saturday be most generous. Buy a paper poppy in memory of the things they who sleep beneath the real poppies of Flanders fields, and who died American heroes, fought for. You are the saviors of the French nation; without you France could not have stemmed the tide. Won't you now do what you can for the little children, martyrs of the war?"

of oil, it was announced today. The Standard and Associated companies are expected to furnish it.

ROTARIANS HEAR INDUSTRIAL TALK

The Oakland Rotary club held its regular weekly luncheon at the Hotel Oakland today noon, at which some weighty matters concerning the club only were disposed of, after which there were a number of humorous diversions. A novel singing contest completed the program.

Edward Wittenberg, Oakland manufacturer, made the five-minute business talk. Harold Oliver gave the first of a series of short talks by members explaining what has been done in his business establishment regarding the employer and employee movement, which is being fostered by the Oakland Rotary club.

The Oakland club now stands second in the United States in membership attendance. Worcester, Mass., leads. San Francisco is seventh.

Big New Drydock Is Planned At Naples

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The largest dry dock on the Mediterranean is planned at Naples.

Recent decrees of the Italian government authorizing the construction of this dock and a smaller one at the industrial port of Bata-Avero provide that work must begin within six months of the official date of the declaration of peace.

Besides the dry-docks, it is planned to transform Lake Averno for the use of shipyards, and to build a canal connecting the lake with the port of Naples proper.

The Italian government will within a period of fifty years pay about half of the cost of the work and at the end of sixty years the entire property automatically becomes government property.

ARCHBISHOP HOME WITH MESSAGE FROM VATICAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5.—Bringing new thoughts on Europe and a new perspective on Irish difficulties, Archbishop Hanna, archbishop of the Hawaiian Islands, arrived here yesterday afternoon to be met at the Oakland pier by an official company of churchmen and laity.
Archbishop Hanna, visited Mrs. Ellen Cantwell of Kilitinan in Tippecanoe, Ireland. Mrs. Cantwell has given four sons to the California priesthood, one to become a bishop, a second a monsignor.
SEES REPUBLIC LOOMING
From his experience in Ireland, the Archbishop says:
That a republic for Ireland is just over the hill.
That except in the north, British power in Erin is exercised in name only.
That the Sinn Fein is the real controlling factor, having elected most of the officers.
That the stories of struggles in Ireland do not tell the real struggle which has been a peaceful one and that the country does not present an appearance of war as news despatches might lead one to believe.
Probably on this side we have heard more about the demonstrations and less about the quiet work being done," he said. "The only thing the leaders are afraid of is a violent outbreak and, if it can be avoided, are sure of victory."
"I was in north Ireland just before July 12 and saw no signs of trouble. I saw a few burned barracks but there was no rioting."

SHE HURLS HAIR BRUSH; PEEPER GETS NOSE CUT

A well aimed hair brush hurled by Mrs. A. C. Bishop, 1622 Thirty-ninth avenue, put to rest last night a "Peeping Thomas" who was seen by Mrs. Bishop peering into her bedroom window.
She was awakened by a noise outside her window and saw a man's face pressed against the pane. It was moonlight and she was able to get a clear glimpse of him.
A hair brush was resting on a stand near the head of the bed. Mrs. Bishop reached for it, surprisedly. She grasped it firmly by the handle.
Then she concentrated her attention on the white spot made by the man's nose as it was flattened against the pane and hurled the hairbrush. A wail of pain drowned the tinkle of shattered glass and the Peeping Thomas was observed making a flying leap over the back fence.

ACTO CRASHES WINDOW
Mrs. H. Owens, 4818 Fairfax avenue, steering an auto being towed by a car driven by her husband, narrowly escaped injury this morning when the towed car crashed into a drug store window at East Fourteenth street.
he found Belgium seemingly the best organized.
Italy as in desperate straits, even worse than Ireland. In the opinion of Archbishop Hanna. The country is without money or materials for reconstruction but is able led at present, the Archbishop said.
He attended the ceremonies incident to the canonization of John Arc. Rome, a ceremony he describes as of remarkable splendor. He brought a Papal message and benediction from the Vatican to San Francisco.

After landing in the United States, Archbishop Hanna attended a conference of Catholic dignitaries in Washington and then presided at the National Catholic Council in Chicago.

SCHOOL BUILDING PROGRAM MADE

The entire program for the erection of elementary schools called for under the $5,000,000 school bond issue has been practically completed, according to a report of the construction department of the Board of Education. The program covers both new buildings and the remodeling of existing buildings.
Further progress on the elementary program, as well as the high school plans, will depend upon the speed of the sale of additional blocks of the school bonds just authorized by the Board of Supervisors. Meanwhile, the report shows, preliminary work is under progress for the new high school buildings contemplated in the bond program and the remodeling of the present high schools.
The remodeled Piedmont avenue elementary school is being completed and will be ready for occupancy by the opening of the fall semester. The construction department announced, and the additional wing being constructed to the Santa Fe school will be completed by that time with the exception of the interior finishing. All preliminary plans for the Bay neighborhood school have been approved by the various committees and placed in the hands of the architects for the preparation of final working drawings.

Will Drop Russian Crew Faction Fight

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5.—District Attorney Brady said today he would move dismissal of the cases involving members of the crew of the Russian steamer Roiday which figured a week ago in a sensational fight by opposing Russian factions. Secretary of State Coghly requested dismissal of the cases through Governor Stephens.

CIVIL SERVICE WORKERS ACTIVE

The campaign to secure signatures to an initiative petition intended to place before the voters at the general election in November a number of changes to the city charter relative to civil service has been put under way with seventeen workers in the field.
The number of signature deputies will be increased to 50 during the coming week, when signature seekers who are now working for the petition of the city for an increase in salaries will join forces with the civil service deputies. The drive will reach its height next week when the entire city will be districted and canvassed.
The deputies already at work include the wives, sisters and mothers of many city employees, in addition to other volunteer workers. Interested. The initiative, if successful, will result in the placing of almost every city employee under the civil service rules.

Peace Lover Gets Stabbed in Neck

It was a peaceable quarrel between the brothers Pete and Tony Annuzio, 534 Elbert street. And then the Good Samaritan intervened.
As usual, the G. S. got it in the neck; only this time in a very literal way, as he received ugly stabs in the neck and the right hand. The G. S. was Joe Caponio, 354 Silver street. Caponio intervened after a heated argument between the brothers. At Seventh and Elbert resulted. In blows, and then the flashing of a gun by Tony. The peacekeeper was stabbed twice by Pete Annuzio, who is held by the police this morning pending an investigation into the violence.
Caponio will recover from his wounds.

Woman Hurt When Auto Smashes Fence

Mrs. Hattie Sullivan, 3942 Woodruff avenue, was hurled from the automobile in which she was riding last night when the brakes failed to work as the car coasted down the hill on Twenty-fifth avenue near East Twenty-ninth street.
The car, traveling at a terrific speed when it reached the base of the hill, careened into the curb and then crashed through a fence. Mrs. Sullivan was thrown against the fence and badly cut and bruised. The machine was driven by Mrs. Sullivan's brother and three other occupants of the car were uninjured.

CONFERENCE ON CONSOLIDATION MAY RENDER HIGH PUBLIC SERVICE.

At the Oakland City Hall tonight there is to be held a conference of representatives of the several municipalities and the outlying districts and of civic and business organizations of Alameda county to discuss the proposal of a consolidated city and county government. Upon the success of this conference, now or at a later date, to present a plan which will be acceptable to all the incorporated units and the up-country districts depends the success of the project of city and county consolidation.

There are a few individuals who have engaged in an agitation for an immediate election of freeholders to draft a charter of consolidated county and city government. These individuals are not concerned over the certain prospect that such an election held now would involve the taxpayers of the county in a fruitless expenditure of over $100,000, nor with the danger that by their ill-advised and precipitate action they would wreck county unity and inflict county division, instead of bringing consolidation.

The vast majority of the citizens, however, feel that before the calling of a freeholders' election there should be presented some plan which will be acceptable to all the municipalities and the outlying districts. If the theory of consolidation is acceptable there ought to be a way to agree upon details of applying that theory. And those details ought to be known to the public before any expensive program of special elections is inaugurated. As THE TRIBUNE repeatedly has stated, there must be a plan of consolidation on which the whole county is agreed or the efforts to bring about consolidation will be doomed to utter failure.

It is the main purpose of the conference to be held tonight to search out such an acceptable plan and to give full information regarding it to the public. The public also should be advised as to the law enabling consolidation of the county and the cities within the county into a single system of government. If dangers of county division lurk within the law and around hastily conceived special elections, they should be described and made known.

Those participating in the conference tonight should not let themselves be influenced by the fact that petitions for a special freeholders' election have been circulated by paid solicitors, nor by the doubtful reports of the number of signatures to those petitions. Anyone can hire men and women to carry around petitions and obtain signatures at so much per signature. But bad faith of the promoters of personal interest should not be permitted to influence the efforts of those citizens honestly concerned with the welfare of the county and the whole Eastbay district and unselfishly committed to ways and means of promoting the best public interest.

The conference may not be able to complete its labors in one session, but it ought to make a significant beginning. The people of the county look to it for reliable and adequate information regarding the timeliness and the practicability of the consolidation proposal.

Officials of the Japanese government profess to be surprised at the request from the United States for information as to the intention of Japan in ordering the military occupation of the northern half of the island of Saghalien. They have no occasion for surprise. When the joint military occupation of Siberia was agreed upon there was a definite understanding that no participating nation should infringe the territorial integrity of Russia. Great Britain, France and the United States have withdrawn their military forces from Siberia. Japan alone remains. Her excuses for the continued temporary occupation of the mainland bordering on Korea may for a time be accepted, until a Russian government is set up that gives some of the signs of permanency. But there is no provocation for the occupation, even temporarily, of northern Saghalien. There is no valid excuse for such action. Unfortunately, due to the proved unreliability of Japan's word, it is necessary to enquire the meaning of her conduct in seizing Saghalien, and before long she must explain her occupation of Vladivostok.

A MERITED IMPROVEMENT.

Once again a movement has been started to require the Southern Pacific Railroad to replace the obsolete and unsightly station buildings at Fourteenth and Franklin streets, at the heart of Oakland, with modern structures which will be in keeping with the progressive character of this city and with the importance of the railroad company's business. The City Council has adopted a resolution, introduced by Commissioner of Safety, Morse, instructing the City Attorney to petition the State Railway Commission to condemn the existing structures as unfit for public service.

If such drastic action as indicated in this notice of intention by the Oakland City Council should be necessary, the Southern Pacific Company alone is to blame. It ought not to be necessary, however, and perhaps a more amiable manner of reviving this long standing plea of the citizens of Oakland to the railroad corporation would have been at this time better suited to the subject.

But the railroad company ought to replace these ancient buildings with modern housing facilities for its traffic handled at the business and civic center of a great city. As a matter of plain moral right the people of Oakland are entitled to this consideration from a corporation to which has been and still is being given so much. And as a matter of business pride and acknowledgment of its indisputable obligation the railroad ought to make the improvements at once.

Oakland is contributing increasing traffic to the railroad. The city's growing industries, manufactures, business and residential population are today vastly more than they were thirty years ago. The city is paying the railroad many times the revenue it paid thirty years ago. There are other railroad lines that terminate in Oakland and competition exists. The railroads are now being operated by their private owners. There is no longer the excuse of government restrictions and devotion to war tasks.

Oakland is a city of 225,000 population and deserves something much better than mud-colored wooden shacks as a passenger depot. New buildings and improvements are being made rapidly throughout the city and the railroad's facilities at Fourteenth and Franklin streets are an eyesore and a drawback to other improvements. They constitute a perpetual injury to property values. The Southern Pacific has been appealed to many times to improve its passenger terminal in the heart of Oakland. There has been a wholesome amount of patience with the excuses based on war conditions. And there has been much mental distress on the part of Oakland citizens that the railroad was apparently so unmindful of the interest of this great city and its valuable patronage. An end should be made to the controversy and the bad feeling by the railroad company making the long-needed improvements without intervention by the State commission.

The city commissioners of Tulsa, Oklahoma, upon the advice of the city attorney, have determined that a canine ceases to be a "pup" and becomes a dog at the age of four months. Thus has a profound question been settled by the Tulsa city and we are encouraged to hope that in time they will determine when a man-slaying woman becomes a murderess.

A federal judge at New York has sentenced a sugar profiteer to two years in the penitentiary. The culprit had hoarded 200,000 pounds of sugar, which he sold at a price to yield him extortionate profits. This is a salutary lesson if the government does not consider that it has finished its job by sending one profiteer to prison.

Wheat dropped yesterday to $2.21 a bushel. But flour and bread is not yet as low as it ought to be and further recessions in the wheat market will be welcome.

NAVY PERSONNEL.

Of what account will the American navy be if, after it has been built, the ships cannot be put in commission because of lack of trained officers to operate them? For some reason that mystifies navy officers the young men of today are not seeking admission to Annapolis and the personnel is not keeping pace with naval construction. There is cause for concern in this situation. It is reported that at the present time there are approximately 400 vacancies and the list is constantly growing. Formerly there was a vigorous contest between appointees and alternates to obtain this coveted place. In New York 21 places are now going begging, in Illinois 23, in Pennsylvania 19 and so on throughout the entire roll of states.

The offer of a fine education, the lure of the sea and the prospect of a distinguished career as an officer of the navy no longer seem to appeal to the young American. The reaction against war, now that the world war is ended, may in some measure account for this remarkable situation at Annapolis. It is believed, however, that the chief reason for the disinclination of young men to enter the navy is the practical certainty of a mere existence at meager pay for the rest of their lives. While the navy offers many advantages to young men of attainments, it means much hard work and not infrequently severe hardship. The pay is far from comparable with that obtained in commercial pursuits. The young men of today would be willing to forego the probability of winning wealth in private life, but it is asking too much of them that they should deliberately choose a course that would condemn them to an existence of penury.

This is a matter into which Congress should inquire closely. The vacancies at Annapolis are too significant to be ignored. The remedy must be found and applied and Congress alone can do that. It is upon the efficiency of the men who control the first line of defense that the safety of the nation depends and this efficiency cannot be developed and perfected after an emergency has arisen. The question is a vital one. The personnel of the United States navy is of equal importance to warship construction, and yet its maintenance and proper development have been almost criminally neglected.—Washington Post.

NOTES and COMMENT

The man who poisoned his wife is shedding tears, can't talk about his "babies," and is otherwise in a sad mental state. It has been done so often, this cant of murderers to win public sympathy, that it must be getting more and more difficult to put it across.

League officials and club owners are taking prompt action on the gambling disclosures in baseball. However competent a player may be, the public will not pay to see him perform if a taint has been fixed on him. Americans love baseball but they will pass up any game in which gambling is even suspected.

The latest acquittal of a murderer shocked a crowd in the "ballroom" but whether the person killed deserved his fate or not, the readiness with which such acquittals are secured must be the reason for the frequent taking of human life. And some of the victims may not fully deserve their fate.

There is a story about "plotting to raise prices." If an expressive Southern way of putting it may be employed, prices already are "done raised." The public is long suffering, but there is a limit to the operation is extended, that something may happen.

The "revolt" in Lower California has very distinct resemblance to a great reserve of hot circumambient air. Cantu is by no means a fierce warrior, and if he was, the situation there is not favorable for a serious issue for revolution. The boasts that Cantu and associates will "fight to the last ditch" may trash the car drums, but is not material enough to trash an army.

The airship has been requested to chase robbers. In Illinois they successfully held up a bank and escaped in automobiles. An airship with armed occupants has gone after them. Robbers may take a bit from this and themselves take to operating with airships. Then there certainly will be a chance for the spectacular.

Friendly fraternal notice from the Visalia Times. "Editor A. L. Evans, of the Visalia Gazette, warns his patrons in a lead editorial that he is soon to take a trip back to the state capital. He says he will go there to reveal in the joys of recreation, also to witness one or more of those good, old-fashioned thunderstorms. It is high time Editor Evans was going some place for rest, recreation, recuperation, relief, rejuvenation. He has been crabbing about so many things of late that his liver must be on the wrong side."

The Long Beach Press discusses on God and Taha. "Lake Tahoe beauty should not be sacrificed to commercialism. You have given California and Nevada many sources of water supply for irrigation and power purposes. But he has given but one Taha."

The Fresno Republican has almost overtaken the man-afraid-of-the-capitalist. "So long as the system is that profits—that is, the unpaid margin of production—shall mostly accumulate in the stores of the rich, it makes a lot of difference to the poor what sort of persons the rich are."

The effect of war's alarms on the Redding Searchlight: "This war in Lower California thrills us in about the same way as does a call for volunteers suppress the low cost of watermelons."

The Stockton Record tells of it but says nothing about the force of habit. "When the 200,000 gallons of gasoline arrived from the East the mayor of Los Angeles and other automobile club officers went out to meet it and welcome it to the city."

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

It was learned at Mare Island that the officers at the station had a torpedo boat destroyer ready Tuesday night to leave the station on a moment's notice to follow the Russian vessel Rogday in case the crew of the latter secured a tow and headed for the Golden Gate. The Rogday was now moored at the oil wharf at the south end of the station—Valejo News.

The price of watermelons soared to 143 per ton in the street market, here the first of the week, setting a record for this product in Turlock district, the highest price heretofore known being under $30. This season the prices have been uniformly good, the bulk of the heavy sales being made at figures well over $30, the range being as high as $48 and $49 on a number of days.—Los Banos Enterprise.

Superior Judge E. P. McDaniel refused naturalization papers to Henry Melmer, a native of Germany, yesterday, and continued his naturalization for hearing until January 28, 1921. As peace has not yet been declared between the United States and Germany, Melmer still ranks as an alien enemy and cannot become a citizen until the war is over.—Marysville Appeal.

The administration at Washington has issued an order over the name of Secretary Baker forbidding army officers taking any "active" part in political management, or in political campaigns or from using their official position to influence the result of an election. This is aimed at Major General Leonard Wood and fellows his recent public pronouncement in favor of the election of Senator Harding.—San Jose Mercury.

Does a man ever know the value of a good wife until he has lost her? This question is suggested by the study of divorce records. A prominent Bakersfield attorney says that it has been his experience that far more men than women weep and beg because more men than women weep and beg was proof that men are more forgiving than women.—Bakersfield Californian.

A PUSSYFOOTER'S MISTAKE — IN FOUR REELS.

THE DEMAND FOR STEEL

The United States Produced About 40 Per Cent of the World's Steel Before the War—Fuel and Labor Difficulties Are Limiting Production in European Countries—Our Production Not Keeping Up With Demand Due to Transportation Difficulties.

By DR. FRANK M. SURFACE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—In the business world the iron and steel markets and the conditions underlying these are regarded as the most delicate barometer of forthcoming events. This arises from the fact that these materials are the raw materials of modern civilization. Industries depend. The forward demand for crude steel reflect almost directly the demand for machinery, structural equipment and railroad material.

Before the war the total world production of crude steel amounted to between 50,000,000 and 75,000,000 tons per year. Of this amount the United States produced about 40 per cent. The four principal countries, the United States, Germany, United Kingdom and France, together produced between 80 and 85 per cent of the world's output.

Before the war Russia's production was about equal to that of France, while Austria-Hungary and Belgium each produced about 2,000,000 tons per year. Canada and Italy each produced about 1,000,000 tons per year.

During the war production was stimulated by the enormous demand for war material. For four years a large portion of the world's steel output went into non-productive channels. Following the armistice there was a decreased demand because of the stoppage of all war production and the industries had not yet adjusted themselves to a peace production basis. Now that these adjustments have been made there is an enormous increase in the demand for steel.

During the war the unfilled orders amounted to between 9,000,000 and 12,000,000 tons. In 1919 these orders decreased to around 4,000,000 tons, but rose in the last half of the year. During 1920 there has been a steady increase each month. During the month of June, in spite of coal and transportation difficulties, the unfilled orders increased nearly 40,000 tons. Since this corporation now has sufficient business on its books to warrant full time operations for the next year it will probably not consider it wise to increase its orders much beyond the present level.

A considerable percentage of this increased demand for steel comes from abroad. The production in the chief countries of Europe is seriously handicapped by lack of coal and by its high price. Germany lost a considerable portion of her iron resources by the war. Furthermore her production of coal is far below normal and she is compelled to furnish a good portion of this to the allies.

The production in France is only about half what it was before the war. Her production is largely dependent upon the delivery of German coal. Eventually France may become an important competitor in the export of iron and steel, but for the present she is an importer of these products.

Belgium was able formerly to export about 1,000,000 tons of iron and steel each year. While she is rapidly recovering from the war the heavy domestic demand and the lack of coal will prevent her entering in the export trade in the near future.

Great Britain is, therefore, the only active competitor of the United States in this field. Even here the severe coal shortage and the labor difficulties have reduced the output. The higher cost of coal and of imported ore and the lowered efficiency of labor have increased the price of corresponding grades much more than in the United States. For example English steel billets in recent

What Gout Really Is—How "A Diet" May Remedy It

By Dr. LEONARD K. HIRSBERG, A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University.)

Gout, like fashion, is a tyrant from which as yet nothing frees us. You simply must suit yourself to its painful or fantastic laws. Once compelled to live under its torments, you rush to mountains, shores, springs, drugs, systems and what not.

Gout, it seems, is one of those rich and precious maladies only to be acquired by the right of inheritance or purchased with gold.

Gout has the victim as well as its pains. Of all the know-nothing persons in the world, as Hood said, commend us to the man, who has "never known a day's illness." He is a moral dunce, one who has lost the greatest lesson in life and has skipped the finest lecture in that great school of humanity, the sick bed.

Gout is an inflammation of the joints, associated with or caused by a retention of waste stuff in the blood, and, except in the beginning of an acute attack, lessened excretion of kidney fluids. As a rule, in true gout there is a deposit of the sodium salt of uric acid stones somewhere in the body—the lobe of an ear, the joint itself, where the albumen in front of the kidney, the white deposit with a characteristic appearance under the microscope. Don't confuse this with the uric acid bugaboo.

Many other conditions have, unfortunately, been associated with gout—under the name "goutiness" and "uric acid blood." The kidneys, the fluids of many healthy persons will, on standing, precipitate a large amount of uric acid salts, but this is not gout, and in no way related to it. "An excess of uric acid" often reported usually means nothing at all.

The food of a gouty patient must be regulated from every direction—quantity, quality and habits of eating. Careful attention must be paid to the carbohydrates, for gouty individuals often show sugar in the kidneys, which not infrequently are affected. The weight of the patient must be watched, for obesity should be avoided. The best results in treating gouty patients would be obtained in an institution where the patient could be "tasted out" just as a diabetic is tested.

During an acute attack of gout this diet can be given:

Breakfast—Apple or banana, cereal with cream and sugar, one egg, cup of cereal coffee with cream and sugar, toast and butter.

Lunch—Custard, baked potato with butter, string beans, rice or macaroni, baked apple with sugar, a glass of milk.

Dinner—Rice with butter, cream cheese, bread and butter, stewed pears, rice pudding.

The diet for chronic gout must be well balanced, and should maintain the patient's strength. For a man weighing 150 pounds, 70 gms. of protein (mainly vegetable), 300 gms. carbohydrate, 150 gms. fat (2500 calories) are the proper proportions.

The essential element in the treatment of gout is individualization of the patient. Poor habits of living should be corrected.

Certain occupations, such as working with lead, tend to predispose to gout. It would be folly to diet a lead worker and allow him to continue his trade.

DOWN-TOWN STREET EXTENSIONS RECOMMENDED TO COUNCIL

RELIEF PLANNED FOR CONGESTION IN MANY POINTS

Recommending an extensive program of street work to open up new industrial arteries in the East Oakland district along the inner harbor and relieve congestion in the downtown business district, the citizens' committee named last fall to study street and traffic conditions this morning submitted its first complete report and recommendations to the city council.

The report, signed by William Knowlton, Joseph E. Caine, R. Porter Giles, A. R. Derge and F. J. Jones, was referred to the budget committee for consideration in the final preparation of the city budget for the present fiscal year.

SEVENTEENTH ST. WIDENING

The most important project suggested comprises the widening of Seventeenth street from Telegraph avenue to Broadway, and the extension of the thoroughfare from its present dead end at Franklin street to Harrison boulevard, providing a new automobile boulevard for the residents north of the central shopping district and relieving traffic congestion in the vicinity of Fourteenth street and Broadway.

This improvement, according to the committee, would cost a total of $150,000, of which it was recommended that the city pay $37,500. The dedication of land by the government for the widening of Seventeenth street from Telegraph avenue to Franklin street is anticipated by the committee.

The plan for the opening of new streets to serve the industrial district of East Oakland along the inner harbor includes the following features:

NEW STREETS PLANNED

1. Opening of Tenth street, along the southern face of the Municipal Auditorium to East Tenth street and Second avenue, with the construction of a bridge across the estuary arm leading to Lake Merritt.
2. Extension of East Eighth street from its present dead end at Eighth avenue, easterly along the Western Pacific right-of-way to connect with East Twelfth street at Fourteenth avenue.
3. Extension of East Twelfth street from Twenty-fifth avenue to connect with East Twelfth street at Fruitvale avenue, and the opening of a new street of disconnected portions of the street to complete the thoroughfare as an alley.

Under the plans of the committee the two streets to be opened would comprise a trucking boulevard for the industrial section and would tend to relieve the present congestion over the Twelfth street dam.

The projects above outlined are:

And yesterday I opened my closet door and was astonished at the great wealth of old and musty garments I had discarded years ago. I called my wife at once and she came, wondering what it meant until I showed her these old togs all well made. And she exclaimed with gleesome voice: "Why, Joe, phone Lakeside two two six!"

The American can clean and press this treasure-trove and make them look like new for business and for daily wear.

I Thank You For Today.

Wife Begg for Mercy Asks Hubby Relent 'Send No More Soups'

Joe is a traveling salesman selling soups. Tessie is his loving wife. Their letters are a cross section of life—word pictures of the Great American Home! They will appear in the OAKLAND TRIBUNE daily beginning Monday.

"A little soup," says Joe, "is a little love. I finished that last case of Daisy Soups you sent home out of a feeling of duty before pleasure, but my stomach is just starting to feel all right again, and I don't hardly think I can get the neighbors to accept any more cans, so please stop sending them. And for another thing, I got tired of jumping up in the middle of my soup and going out to look at the label on the can because I couldn't tell what kind I was eating by the taste. Don't send home any more samples, will you, Joe? Bye-bye. Take care of yourself and don't show no mercy in selling Daisy Soups. Your loving wife, TESSIE."

Watch for the letters in the OAKLAND TRIBUNE.

East Fourteenth Widening Is Urged

The project for the widening of East Fourteenth street, between Ninety-fourth avenue and One Hundred and Third avenue, which was halted last week when Mayor Davis opposed the issue because of the expense involved to the city, was recommended in a communication to the City Council, today from the Stonehurst Improvement Club.

The recommendation will be used tomorrow, when the Council will reconsider the vote of last week on the ordinance providing for the improvement. The improvement club cited one recent death and numerous accidents as reasons for the opening of the street.

Woman Who Shot Her Rival to Be Retried

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5.—Mrs. Lillian Conally, charged with assault with intent to murder for shooting Mrs. Nellie Ferguson, alleged rival for her husband's affections, will again be brought to trial on November 17.

A jury of eight women and four men disagreed after seven hours' deliberation last night. Temporary imprisonment was recommended by the committee to be made during the present fiscal year, while the rest of the complete ordinance embraces improvements at Fourteenth street and Broadway and the impediment to the logical expansion of the business district owing to the lack of cross-town thoroughfares north of Fourteenth street.

This condition, the committee declares, is the cause of the fact that Oakland has the smallest business district of any city of similar size in the United States.

LEGION OFFICERS CLAIM BUSINESS MADE THEM QUIT

ALAMEDA, Aug. 5.—H. S. Teague, secretary and treasurer of Alameda Post No. 9 of the American Legion, and C. L. Dexter, assistant secretary, both asserted today that the so-called anti-administration faction had nothing to do with their resignations which were read to the members of the post at its meeting Tuesday night.

President E. V. Orr, who presided at Tuesday night's meeting, announced from the chair that he intended to resign, but so far has not offered his resignation in writing. He stated then that he was told before the meeting by one of the anti-administration members that his resignation would be asked for.

"The resignations of Teague and Dexter because business interests will not permit them to devote enough time to Legion matters, were also presented to the members. On a motion from the floor the resignations were laid over until the next meeting."

The anti-administration faction asserts that the officers do not devote enough time to Legion matters. They also complain about the lack of interest shown by the officers in a garden party and picnic given by the auxiliary and a show staged last week by the post, contending also that the officers should live and work in the city.

In a statement today Orr, after having been asked by several of the members to withdraw his resignation, said:

"The reasons why the anti-faction want my resignation are very weak. In each of their complaints there is a long story to be told that amounts to nothing when completed. I have been asked by several to withdraw my resignation. I will talk the matter over with some of my friends, and I am under the impression I will withdraw my verbal resignation."

SEAFARER KICKS OVER LANDSMAN'S WAY WITH WIFE

Charges made by Gustaf A. Martin against his wife, Mrs. Mae Josephine Martin in a divorce complaint placed on the secret file were revealed today with the granting of a divorce to the husband by Judge Joseph Koford. Mrs. Martin did not appear to contest the suit.

When he returned from a sea voyage, Martin charged, he found that his wife had had a affair with a man who called her up on the telephone. With one of these men she kept a dinner engagement in San Francisco, he charged, while she went auto riding with other men. His wife also bought one of her friends' silk shirt with his money, Martin charged, and she persisted in wearing a ring given to her by another man before her marriage. When receiving other men at her home his wife would carefully close intervening doors, he charged, and that she showed great familiarity with a man she met at the home of her mother. Martin agreed to give his wife custody of a child with $15 a month for support.

Lester Warlick had so little regard for his wife that while she was sick he sat down in the room and strummed upon a ukulele until she protested and then broke the instrument over her back, according to the divorce complaint of Mrs. Mae Warlick. She also charges her husband with grabbing her wrist and twisting it until he broke a bone in her hand when she pleaded with him not to leave home at a late hour in the night. Then he refused to get a doctor to attend the fracture and only laughed at her, says Mrs. Warlick. She asks to be given custody of an infant daughter and $32 a month for the child's support.

ment both by the ex-service men and residents of Berkeley was expressed at a mass meeting held in Wheeler auditorium. Speakers were U. W. Lambkin, director in chief of the federal vocational training board, and Calvin McIntosh and E. D. Trwin, directors in charge of the north-west district.

WILL CUT RED TAPE

Lambkin, deploring the large amount of red tape necessary in the fourteen districts in which the vocational work is divided, and told of plans for the centralization of activities to expedite return to work of disabled soldiers.

"To get the disabled soldier back to work so that he will be a help not only to himself but to the community at large is the principal duty of the vocational board," said Lambkin.

Japanese Bandits Rob Six Chinese; Speed Off in Car

VACAVILLE, Aug. 5.—Six Chinese men in Wing Sing Company's store on Kendall street were held up by two Japanese shortly after 7 o'clock last evening, forced to retreat to a smaller room in the rear, where the money was kept, and then one was compelled to open the money drawer and hand over the contents to the bandits. It is claimed that $480 was taken. Each of the Japanese was armed with a pistol, and they made no effort to conceal their faces.

After securing the money they hastened from the store, jumped into an automobile which they had left standing on Bernard street, at the rear of McMillan's garage, and got out of town without loss of time.

LEGATEES ALL DIE PENDING SETTLEMENT

So long has the estate of Philip Boogar, who died on January 5, 1919, been pending in the courts that both the executors and all the legatees have died and J. A. Hill, public administrator, was appointed administrator of the estate today by Judge E. C. Robinson in probate court. The estate will be divided among the heirs of the legatees. The estate consists of property in Chinatown valued at $25,000.

Patron Sues Cafe for Service Refusal

On the ground that he was refused service in Meads' restaurant on February 7 because he was colored, R. W. York is today suing C. J. Meads, Inc., for $1500 damages before Judge Joseph Koford. The complaint alleges that York and a friend waited for some time and then appealed to the manager, who told them that his waiters would not wait upon colored people.

Contesting the action, witnesses for the defense claimed that colored people are waited upon at any time and that the delay in waiting upon the defendant was due to a rush of business.

'LIFER' OTTO IS RETURNED TO SOLITARY CELL

Carl Otto, who was captured in Oakland last week by Police Inspector Jack Mulhern after a battle on Seventh street, is today back in a solitary cell in Folsom prison—the cell to which he vowed he would never return.

Otto was taken late yesterday afternoon from the city jail by Prison Guard J. F. Connell. His wrists were strapped to his waist by strong steel manacles to guard against his making another effort to escape. He was taken to Folsom over the San Francisco-Sacramento railroad. Late last night he was led back again to the prison from where he sensationally escaped more than two months ago by driving a locomotive through the prison gates and then drifting for a mile down the American river out of the reach of guards.

His head was still bandaged to protect the wounds he received last Thursday afternoon in his desperate encounter with the police officer who recognized and captured him.

Otto said as he left the city hall prison:

"I now go from the light to the darkness. Mine will be a solitary cell. I would rather die than go back to it."

Last week Otto said he felt that in the event he was returned to Folsom his only hope would be for deportation to Germany, for which, he says, he is eligible through the performance of more than one crime in this country. He lost all hope of such action late yesterday when the prison guard informed him that he was going back to serve out his life sentence.

EAST BAY FOOD PRICES TUMBLING

AVERAGE HELD UP, HOWEVER, BY RISE IN STAPLES

Relation of the dollar to the East-bay market basket is being steadily altered, in favor of the market basket.

Evidence of declining food prices in some of the staple lines is sufficient to balance threatened advances in others, notably milk.

The largest deterrent factor to reductions at present seems to be the advance in freight rates which must necessarily be spread to prices.

The most striking decrease which is announced is that on flour, 2 cut in the best grades of 30 cents a hundred was made yesterday, bringing the Oakland top price to $3.55.

"And we are expecting more very soon," announced a Broadway retail market this morning.

The wholesale price of flour dropped, on Tuesday, from $14.30 to $13.90, the direct result of the sudden drops in milling wheat in Minnesota.

WHEAT SHOWS RECOVERY

Some check in the decline in the grain market has been effected by reports of the European situation which caused a recovery in Chicago wheat futures this morning. December delivery being quoted at $2.44 and March 2, 2 cents higher than that which was a respective gain of 12 and 15 cents.

Along with the decline in the price of flour in the general drop in potato quotations which have gone down to $1.25 in car load lots. This decline has had a marked effect in the bay region. On the San Joaquin river, it is reported, warehouses of the Southern and Western Pacific and Santa Fe railroads have been filled with potatoes, grain and onions which are now being held by owners in the hope that prices will increase, while river steamers are

Developments Indicate
Decrease in Food Costs

Developments tending to indicate a decrease in the Eastbay food cost situation, with hopeful signs for the future, have appeared during the last two days. In summary they follow:

Wholesale sugar price cut of cent a pound made and should reach consumer by end of week, making 21½-cent sugar possible.

Flour reduced 10 cents hundred by retailers, best patent grades selling at $3.55 a hundred-pound sack.

Housewives begin campaign to curtail use of milk, and encourage baking of bread at home to gain 15-cent milk and 15-cent bread.

Potato prices down to $2.35 wholesale, with San Joaquin valley shippers holding up supplies for higher market.

Elimination of jobbers in certain lines of fancy groceries bring reduction to retailer and consumer, particularly affecting shortenings.

Main threat to check declining prices seen in increased freight rates, which will be spread to consumer.

Onions so plentiful they are dug on market and sell low as 6 cents.

Great increase reported for year in acreage and average yield of lettuce crop looking to long supply later.

Housewives Urge Curtailment
Of Milk; Favor Home Baking

Members of the Alameda Housewives' League are meeting in the Knights of Pythias hall in Alameda this afternoon to hear a recommendation that they urge curtailment in the use of milk and the baking of bread at home.

The resolution was certain to pass, it was said.

The action is the answer of the league with other leagues of Alameda county to cards being circulated announcing the new scale of 16-cent milk prices.

Cards are being circulated by the California Housewives' League asking that families without babies or invalids curtail the use of milk and bake bread at home.

The women have taken their stand for 15-cent bread and 15-cent milk. The 15-cent bread price applies to the large loaf.

The Alameda curtailment action is contingent upon the success of efforts to obtain Oakland milk in Alameda at 14 cents. A proposal to an Oakland dairy to this effect has been made.

The women still charge that dairymen have paid certain Eastbay women to issue propaganda against the housewives and in favor of the use of more milk.

running with light cargoes and several have been idle at wharves.

ONIONS HELD FOR RISE

Onions, which have been almost dropping the market being as low as 6 cents a pound retail, also are being held in the warehouses in the hope of better prices, it is declared.

Co-operative marketing of lettuce, melons, beans, peas and similar produce has been undertaken in the south by growers in the interests of sustaining the market, according to Fred Bigelow, secretary of the state market commission.

In the fancy grocery lines, as well as in canned or boxed goods, now becoming staples, a new movement which has tended to reduce prices is reported by Oakland retailers. This is the opening by the large producers of direct producing agencies and elimination of jobbers.

The most immediate effect has been in prepared shortenings used by housewives as substitutes for lard. One large eastern firm recently established a bay distribution branch and immediately cut the price of its shortening.

This price is today reflected in the grocer's counter. The commodities thus affected are chiefly copyrighted brands.

Berkeley's first experiment in municipal marketing, provided under an ordinance adopted several months ago, was conducted this morning when watermelons were sold at 2 cents a pound. The sale of the melons was directed by Councilman Carl Bartlett, commissioner of finance and revenue, who is placed in charge of the municipal market activities. A truckload of the melons was brought from Turlock by A. L. Storie of Berkeley with the sanction of Councilman Bartlett. Storie and his son, R. S. Storie, an ex-service man of Berkeley, conducted the sale today at Shattuck and University avenues, where a temporary curb market was maintained. The melons had a good sale. It is expected that the success of the experiment will lead to further sales of the same kind.

There is a hope that the lowering price of flour will be reflected in the bakeries which have, in the face of strong opposition by the housewives' league, increased bread prices. The claim of the bakers that the need of additional revenue is so apparent that many of them are facing bankruptcy, is held to be met in the lowering of flour and that if the flour decline can hold the bakers probably can be induced to go back to former bread price levels.

Meat prices, although quoted somewhat lower at wholesale, have not broken sharply at retail in the Eastbay regions recently.

INCREASED SUGAR
PRODUCTION WILL HIT PRICES HARD

Notwithstanding the statement today that an error was made in announcing the reduction of sugar prices to wholesalers yesterday which makes the cut $1 instead of $1.75 on the hundred for the latest allotment, Oaklanders with a sweet tooth, faced a hopeful condition in the sugar market today.

Sugar is on the downward trend and probable decline.

The cut yesterday brought the price from the refineries down to $21.75 to $20.75. The reduction has been reached, the retailers but should be effected at the grocery counter by the end of the week where it will mean a further retail cut of from a cent to a cent and a half.

FURTHER CUT IS NEAR

Sugar is now retelling at a price varying from 22½ cents to 25 cents. A further cut therefore, will put the price region back within the range of prices which have not prevailed since last January.

The new refiners' price to jobbers really means that sugar to the grocer will go at about $22 to $22.50 a hundred, figuring in a jobber's profit averaging 2½ and charges for handling. Variations in these charges, according to a measure, for slight variations in retail prices met by the consumer who goes from shop to shop seeking quotations.

It was stated today that while the refiners' cut would figure 75 cents less than was at first announced, the reduction was one of the most hopeful that has been witnessed in the recent breaks toward old price levels.

DECLINE IS RAPID

Last January, with refiners' sugar selling at $15.75 a hundred, sugar over the grocers' scales reached the kitchen sugar bucket at a price of from 18 to 20 cents, then considered high.

By April refiners' sugar had gone up to $18 and in mid-April was $18.25 with a corresponding raise of more than 2 cents in the retail price.

By June refiners' allotments were going at $23 and more and retail sugar had struck its 30 cent figure. On July 2 wholesale prices went from $25 to $27.30. The peak was reached shortly afterward and the drop began with a total drop of more than 10 cents a pound.

PATIENCE ASKED

Retailers who were asked regarding the further cuts today asked the public to be patient for two or three days, saying the benefit of the new reduction would be felt in three days to a week for the operations of price reductions in the sugar market to go from refiner to consumer.

OF CITY BUDGET IS UNDER WAY

Final revision of the budget estimates of the various city departments for the fiscal year 1920-21, was begun today by Commissioner William J. Baccus, who will report to the council on August 16.

Under the city charter the budget must be in by the first Tuesday in August, and the levy must be fixed not later than the first Tuesday in September, which falls on Sept. 7.

Considerable slicing in the public betterment requirements will be necessary, according to Baccus, in order to adhere to the council's policy of a tax rate of not more than $2.44, and still grant the salary and wage increases adopted in the report of efficiency expert N. W. Cook.
